BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

PREVIOUS TO CHAMP FERGUSON—HIS LAST SPEECH.

Nashville papers of the 20th, received by last night's mail, bring us full particulars of the execution of Champ Ferguson, the guerilla. The Gazette gives the following account:

At half-past 10 o'clock yesterday morning, we took our place among the spectators—probably about two hundred—that had assembled to witness the execution of Champ Ferguson.

He was dressed in a suit of plain black. His arms were bound tightly behind him, but his carriage was erect, firm and elastic. Had he been the experienced orator, mounting the rostrum to address a great and friendly assemblage, his manner as he mounted that lofty scaffold could not have been more thoughtfully grand, cool or impressive. His hair was neatly cut, and his face shaved, but darkened with the indications of a heavy beard. His habit—the picture of perfect health, and his well developed form gave evidence of a man of immense muscular strength and physical endurance. There was a proud compression of the lip, and a high scorn of the eye, which, while fully alive to the dread solemnity of the occasion, showed he was determined in death not to belie his character while living. His whole appearance was suggestive of one who

——"On such a glorious height
Death-like I stood, as the thunderbolt
Pierces the dark."

The coffin, draped in white, was placed in front of the scaffold. The prisoner took his stand under the fatal beam, and the charges and specifications were then read, in a clear voice, by Col. Shafter. Ferguson's manner during the reading was that of haughty indifference. Several times he bowed to a chance acquaintance, whose upturned face he recognized in the crowd. At some of the specifications he nodded assent, at others he shook a scornful denial. As the sixteenth specification was read, he somewhat hurriedly remarked, "I could tell it better than that," and Col. Shafter replied, "I should not wonder." The number of specifications was twenty-three, of most of which he was adjudged guilty.

The prisoner was then asked if he had anything to say. His words were very low, and scarcely audible. In substance he said: "I have nothing to say—there is a good deal I could say, but I will not. I do not want to be cut to pieces when I am dead. I want to be put in that thing"—pointing to the coffin—"and sent to my home in White county.—There is a good, high graveyard there, close to my home, and there is where I want to be buried."

A brief and eloquent prayer was then offered by the Rev. Dr. Bunting. Ferguson's attitude during its delivery was that of solemn thought and reverent attention. His limbs were then bound together, the rope adjusted around his neck, the cap pulled over his face, and as the beautiful day was forever closed to his view, he only murmured, "The Lord God have mercy on my soul."

At twenty-five minutes of 12 o'clock the trap was sprung, and the prisoner dropped heavily on the extended rope. Two very slight convulsions were the only signs he gave of life or the struggle in death, until his heart had ceased to beat. After hanging twenty-four minutes the cord was cut, and the earthly remains of Champ Ferguson were closed to the sight of man in the coffin awaiting their reception.

GENERAL KIRBY SMITH.

The telegram which reported the killing of General Kirby Smith in Texas, was only the way that very mendacious thing, the telegram, had of stating the following:

"New Orleans, Oct. 21.—Colonel Kirby, a prominent citizen of Texas, and a relative of Kirby Smith, was killed recently by the former's employee at Hempstead.

General P Kirby Smith was, at latest accounts, in Cuba. Permission has been granted him to return to this country, and he is expected to arrive soon in Lynchburg, where his family are.

MITCHELL STILL IMPRISONED.

FORT MONROE, Oct. 23.—Information has reached this place that the propeller C. C. Leary is in a disabled condition in Hatteras Inlet.

The double turret monitor Tonawanda has arrived here from Philadelphia.

John Mitchell has not been released as reported, but is still a prisoner in Carroll Hall.

Heavy fires are raging in the woods in Nansemond and Princess Anne counties.

MAJOR LAMB.

Major Lamb, of Norfolk, who commanded Fort Fisher when it was taken by our forces, has been in Providence, R. I., for some weeks. The minie ball that he received in his hip during the struggle at Fort Fisher has been extracted by a surgeon of that city.

Poultry is very big in Hartford—Jas. McLaughlin paid $11 for a single chicken that he had—stolen.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.—Raleigh, October 25, 1865.—A regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners was held Wednesday evening.

Present—C. B. Root, Mayor pro tem; Messrs. W. H. McKee, P. Overby, J. J. Overby, A. Creech, H. Mahler, W. R. Richardson, H. Poole, commissioners.

The committee appointed at the last meeting to devise ways and means to create a fund to pay the city watch and other expenses of the city, reported as follows:

We, the committee appointed by the Board of Commissioners to devise some way in which to raise a fund to defray the expenses of the city watch and other incidental expenses of the corporation, have had the matter under consideration and beg leave to report—

That they have had an interview with Gov. Holden and the City Attorney, and they give it as their opinion that the Board has the power to levy and collect a city tax in accordance with the charter of the city of Raleigh, for the year 1865. We therefore recommend that the Mayor pro tem. be authorized and requested to advertise by hand-bill and notice in the city papers, calling on the citizens to render a list of their city taxable property forthwith; and that the city collector proceed to collect said tax without delay, and that it is to be hoped that the tax payers will come forward and pay up promptly.

Respectfully submitted,

C. M. FARRIES,

J. J. CHAMBERLAINE, Clk.

A REAL TREAT.—Mine host of the Yarborough House Saloon sent us last night, just at the proper season, a mess of delicious oysters—the very finest we have seen this season and quite equal in flavor, if not in size, to those upon which we fed at Norfolk from youth to manhood. Indeed, they savored of Lynnhaven bay, where the finest shell fish in the world are taken. The proprietor of the establishment referred to is now under full sail, prepared not only to quench thirst with hot and cold drinks, but to feed the hungry. Push him tenderly and the probability is he would decide the subject; if he events, he can do the other things.

FREEDMAN'S SAVINGS BANK.—We observe that in various portions of the South the Freedmen are establishing savings banks under the auspices of the Freedmen's Savings and Trust Company. It is not our purpose to recommend any particular institution as a place of deposit; indeed it is no necessary to do so, the most and only important point being that the colored people exercise proper caution by making deposits only with responsible concerns. Really desirous of seeing this class of our population become prosperous and happy, we advise them to deposit their surplus earnings in some safe interest-paying bank. By such a system they may not only attain positions of comfort, but pecuniary independence. Besides, every step they advance in worthiness will elevate them in the estimation of the white race.

CLOSE OF THE SEASON.—The Opera Troupe, which has been performing at Market Hall under the successful management of Mr. O'Daniels, announce their farewell entertainment to come off next Saturday night. This is positive, and as the interval between this and that time is to be devoted exclusively to rehearsals of novelties, we presume their last will be the best entertainment. There is a heavy per centage of home artists in the troupe and concert folks ought to encourage them by filling the hall to overflowing.

From Raleigh the company will visit Louisburg, Oxford, Henderson, Warrenton, Weldon and many other points, and we promise our friends at the different points mentioned rare sport and fine music.

TO BE SUCCESSFUL—we take it for granted—is the wish of every candidate in the present campaign. They must therefore supply the ammunition promptly to the scouts and we inform them that election tickets, in any quantity, from one to fifty thousand, can be printed at this office on the shortest possible notice. Price, one dollar per thousand.

Circulars, book work and all other jobbing done with dispatch.

A MATCH FACTORY.—By an advertisement to be found in another column, it will be seen that an enterprising firm, Messrs. Keenan & Welch, have established in Petersburg a factory for the manufacture of matches. It is a southern establishment and should be encouraged by the merchants and tradesmen of Raleigh, as well as others who favor domestic enterprise.

FOR THE COMMONS.—We unintentionally omitted to call attention, yesterday, to the fact that our distinguished fellow-townsman, Kenneth Rayner, is a candidate for a seat in the House of Commons from Wake.

UP AND AT 'EM.—D. A. Wicker appears in a card this morning as a candidate for the superior court clerkship of this county. He is very explicit as to whom he favors in the present knotty contest.

BRUISING.—Two negroes engaged in a bruising match in the vicinity of the market house, yesterday, but no damage was sustained by either belligerent.

The Mayor of St. Martha, Canada, was murdered recently in a house of ill fame there.

"Every dollar of the debt created to aid the rebellion against the United States should be repudiated finally and orever."—ANDREW JOHNSON to Gov. HOLDEN.

Jonathan Worth, and the "Sentinel," the organ of the disaffected faction that brought him forward for Governor, are in favor of taxing the people to pay the rebel State debt.

Important Letter—Inside Views of President Johnson.

The following report of an interview between Maj. GEORGE L. STEARNS, of Boston, and President JOHNSON, is so important a development of the policy of the present administration, that we deem it right to spread it before the people of the South at once. Of the authenticity of the document there can hardly be any question, as the narrative of Maj. Stearns was submitted to the President previous to its appearance in print and was returned to the writer with this endorsement:

"I have read the within communication and find it substantially correct.

"I have made some verbal alterations.

"Signed, A. J."

It will be seen that the Chief Executive officer of the nation fully endorses the idea of qualified negro suffrage and assumes that as a citizen of Tennessee he would proceed to establish it there by constitutional methods if possible.—This statement of his views is certainly the most important and perhaps the most accurate which has been given the public. The opinions to which he gives in his adhesion with respect to negro suffrage do not really affect the consistency or impair the value of his oft-repeated hostility to the interference of Congress with the subject in the States. As a citizen, Mr. Johnson's views are very unimportant and it is in that capacity and not as President of the United States that he avows himself in favor of a limited extension of the elective franchise to specific classes of the African race.

We see nothing in all this to warrant the jubilations of the radical press or to disturb the confidence of the South in the nationalism of the reconstructive policy of the present administration. The parade of the document at this juncture is with us most potent evidence of the failing fortunes of sectional partisanry and clear indication that they will not be powerful enough to frustrate the early reception of the Southern States back to their original position in the Union.

With these brief precautionary views, we submit the paper above referred to:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8, 1865, 11½ A. M.

I have just returned from an interview with President Johnson, in which he talked for an hour on the process of reconstruction of rebel States. His manner was as cordial, and his conversation as free, as in 1863, when I met him daily in Nashville.

His countenance is healthy, even more so than when I first knew him.

I remarked that the people of the North were anxious that the process of reconstruction should be thorough, and they wished to support him in the arduous work, but their ideas were confused by the conflicting reports constantly circulated, and especially by the present position of the Democratic party. It is industriously circulated in the Democratic Clubs that he was going over to them. He laughingly replied, "Major, have you never known a man who had for many years differed from your views because you were in advance of him, claim them as his own when he came up to your stand-point?"

I replied, "I have often." He said, "So have I," and went on: "The Democratic party finds its old position untenable, and is coming to ours; if it has come up to our position I am glad of it. You and I need no preparation for this conversation; we can talk freely on this subject, for the thoughts are familiar to us; we can be perfectly frank with each other." He then commenced with saying that the States are in the Union, which is whole and indivisible.

"Individuals tried to carry them out, but did not succeed, as a man may try to cut his throat and be prevented by the bystanders; and you cannot say he cut his throat because he tried to do it.

"Individuals may commit treason, and be punished, and a large number of individuals may constitute a rebellion and be punished as traitors. Some States tried to get out of the Union, and we opposed it, honestly, because we believed it to be wrong; and we have succeeded in putting down the rebellion. The power of those persons who made the attempt has been crushed, and we now want to reconstruct the State governments and have the power to do it. The State institutions are prostrated, laid out on the ground, and they must be taken up and adapted to the progress of events; this cannot be done in a moment. We are making very rapid progress, so rapid I sometimes cannot realize it; it appears like a dream.

"We must not be in too much of a hurry; it is better to let them reconstruct themselves than to force them to it; for if they go wrong, the power is in our hands, and we can check them at any stage to the end, and oblige them to correct their errors. We must be patient with them. I did not expect to keep out all who were excluded from the amnesty, or even a large number of them; but I intended they should sue for pardon, and so realize the enormity of the crime they had committed.

"You could not have broached the subject of equal suffrage at the North seven years ago, and we must remember that the changes at the South have been more rapid, and they have been obliged to accept more unpalatable truth than the North has. We must give them time to digest a part, for we cannot expect such large affairs will be comprehended and "I have nothing to suggest in these remarks, and have no desire or intention to make them public; I only wished to set you right.

"Our [illegible] and [illegible] in reconstructing the [illegible] which I regard as the most important question before the country. The danger now is not from [illegible] opposition here. If we are [illegible] giving the States the same power and rights as to [illegible] as a great consolidation of power in the central government.

"If I hesitated with the vote in the rebel States to-day that the negro shall vote, I might do the same thing for my own negroes in Pennsylvania. Our only safety is in allowing each State to control the right of voting by its own laws, and we have the power to control the local States if they go wrong. If they rebel, we have the army, and can control them by it, and, if necessary, by reconstruction also. If the General Government controls the right to vote in the States, it may establish such rules as will restrict the vote to a small number of persons, and thus create a central despotism.

"My position here is different from what it would be if I were in Tennessee.

"There I should try to introduce negro suffrage gradually; first those who had served in the army; those who could read and write, and perhaps a property qualification for others, say $200 or $250.

"It will not do to let the negroes have universal suffrage now, it would breed a war of races.

"There was a time in the Southern States when the slaves of large owners looked down upon non-slaveowners because they did not own slaves; the larger the number of slaves their masters owned, the greater they were, and this has produced hostility between the mass of the whites and the negroes.—The outrages are mostly from non-slaveholding whites against the negro, and from the negro upon the non-slaveholding whites.

"The negro will vote with the late master whom he does not hate, rather than with the non-slaveholding white, whom he does hate. Universal suffrage would create another war, not against us, but a war of races.

"Another thing. This Government is the freest and best on earth, and I feel sure is destined to last; but to secure this, we must elevate and purify the ballot. I for many years contended at the South that slavery was a political weakness, but others said it was political strength; they thought we gained three-fifths representation by it; I contended that we lost two-fifths.

"If we had no slaves, we should have had twelve representatives more, according to the ratio of representation. Congress apportions representation by States, not districts, and the State apportions by districts.

"Many years ago I moved in the Legislature that the apportionment of Representatives to Congress, in Tennessee, should be by qualified voters.

"The apportionment is now fixed until 1872; before that time we might change the basis of representation from population to qualified voters, North as well as South, and in due course of time the States, without regard to color, might extend the elective franchise to all who possessed certain mental, moral, or such other qualifications as might be determined by an enlightened public judgment."

RESOLUTIONS

Of thanks to President Johnson and Governor Holden.

Resolved by the delegates of the people of North Carolina, in convention assembled, That the administration of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, has been eminently national and conservative, embracing every section of this Republic, and that he is entitled to the gratitude of the people of this State for the manifestation of his purpose to secure to them at as early a day as is practicable, the restoration of their constitutional rights in the Union; and that W. W. Holden, Provisional Governor, deserves our thanks for his zealous and faithful labors to the same end.

Resolved, That copies of the above resolution be transmitted by the President of the convention to President Johnson and Governor Holden.

[Ratified in convention, this eighteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.]

EWDIN G. READE, President.
JAS. H. MOORE, Secretary of the Convention.
R. C. BADGER, Assistant Secretary.

Answer to Governor Wise's Appeal.

It will be remembered that General Terry, commanding the Department of Virginia, some two months ago refused the application made by Governor Wise for restoration and possession of his property, situated in Onancock, near Only, Princess Anne county, and that the Governor afterwards made an appeal from the decision of General Terry to General Grant. The following is the endorsement made on the papers forwarded:

"Respectfully submitted to the Secretary of War.
W. A. NICHOLS.

"September 19, 1865. A. A. General."

"Returned to the Adjutant General, with directions to send back these papers to General Terry, with the information that his decision is approved by the Secretary of War.

"By order of THOMAS T. HENERT,
Acting Assistant Secretary of War."

"October 11th, 1865.

"Respectfully returned to Major-General Terry, commanding Department of Virginia, for compliance with the order of the War Department endorsed hereon, under date of the 11th instant.

W. A. NICHOLS,
A. A. General.

"October 17th, 1865.

At the time that the appeal referred to was in Headquarters Department of Virginia, we published extracts from the document, in which the able and distinguished author made known his views on various subjects now occupying the attention of the people, both North and South. This decision of the War Department is of great importance to those who have not yet applied for pardons, and have publicly stated that they do not think such a course necessary or proper.

—The Chicago Tribune says there is a mania for killing negroes in Union county, Illinois. There will be a mania on the same subject in many other places if the negroes don't behave better.

LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!

New York, July 14, 1866.

Messrs. Herring & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your safe has again been demonstrated to be the best fire-proof [illegible] in the ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

In the year 1846, the writer embarked in the Drug Business in the city of Philadelphia, and while thus engaged, made several experiments in regard to the most desirable mode of preparing Fluid Extracts. My efforts being successful—the articles being approved and used by the medical faculty—I was desirous of placing them before the public, but hesitated for some time before concluding to resort to newspaper advertising, knowing of the prejudices that existed in the minds of many against using advertised Medicines or Nostrums, but through the advice of friends and those who had used them this objection was overcome.

After 18 years' exertions, commencing in a small way, the popularity of my articles has extended to all parts of the United States, and widely throughout foreign countries—and this in the face of much opposition.—Every means has been resorted to by unprincipled dealers since their merit and success have been known—such as advertising large bottles at less price, censuring all other preparations, and even copying my advertisements—but I am happy to state that out of the many who have resorted to this, none have been successful.

MY OBJECT

in this notice is to make facts known to the public and respectable dealers, believing, after so many years' exertions, that the Druggists will discountenance such proceedings, and that the reputation of my articles may not be damaged by the use of inferior or spurious ones. Knowing that many may read this article who are unacquainted with me, I append a few remarks from those of my native city, and whose names are known in all parts of the world:

"Being personally acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold, it affords me pleasure in stating I have been most favorably impressed with his energy and integrity, and satisfied at his success." WM. WRIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman,
Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

[Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.]

"When on a visit to the city of New York, a few days since, I was induced to call on our old friend and townsman, Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Druggist, 594 Broadway, N. His store is a model—a perfect gem—the handsomest of any kind we have ever had the pleasure of visiting, and so extensive, being 54 feet front, five stories in height, and over 200 feet deep. It indeed affords us much pleasure to know that he has been so successful and it is ample evidence of the merits of his articles—as in our whole business experience we have not known of a success of any articles without merit—advertising rarely bringing the name before the people."

[Boston Herald.]

"We do not like to advertise worthless wares, or articles calculated to deceive our readers; and when we see an advertiser like Mr. Helmbold, whom we have known for years, gradually extend his advertising from year to year until he becomes the largest advertiser in the United States, we are satisfied that the statements in regard to his articles must be correct."

The writer reluctantly inserts the above, and would not do so were he not a stranger to many; and considers in stating the names of his articles, and the diseases for which they have been used by many thousands with complete success.

PROCLAMATION,

BY WILLIAM W. HOLDEN,

PROVISIONAL GOVERNOR,

TO THE

PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

WHEREAS, A CONVENTION OF THE PEOPLE of North Carolina has been chosen in pursuance of the proclamation of ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, of date May 29th, 1865, under the fourth section of the fourth article of the Constitution of the United States, which guarantees to every State in the Union a republican form of government, for the purpose of enabling the loyal people of said State to organize a State government whereby justice may be established, domestic tranquility restored, and loyal citizens protected in all their rights of life, liberty and property; and for the purpose also of restoring said State to its Constitutional relations to the Federal Government, by presenting such a republican form of government as will entitle the State to the guarantees of the United States therefor, and its people to protection by the United States against invasion, insurrection and domestic violence: And said Convention having assembled in the City of Raleigh and adopted Ordinances hereinafter set forth, I, WILLIAM W. HOLDEN, Provisional Governor of said State, do hereby proclaim and declare that an election will be held in the various counties of said State on Thursday, the ninth day of November, 1865, as follows:

1st. For the ratification or rejection of "An Ordinance declaring null and void the ordinance of May the 20th, 1861."

2d. For the ratification or rejection of "An Ordinance prohibiting slavery in the State of North Carolina."

3d. For a Governor and members of the General Assembly.

4th. For seven members of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

5th. For Clerks and Sheriffs of the respective counties.

"The elections shall be conducted in accordance with "An Ordinance providing for the election of the members of the General Assembly, to be convened on the fourth Monday of November, eighteen hundred and sixty five, and for electing representatives in Congress and Governor of the State," ratified by the Convention the tenth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, and hereinafter set forth; said Ordinance having been passed in pursuance of the proclamation of the President of the United States, of date May 29th, 1865, authorizing said Convention to "prescribe the qualifications of electors, and the eligibility of persons to hold office under the constitution and laws of the State." And also, in conformity with the rules and regulations prescribed by the laws of this State concerning said elections, in force previous to the 20th day of May, 1861.

The people of the State are respectfully urged to maintain order among themselves at the election, and to discountenance appeals, the tendency of which may be to produce ill-feeling and alienation towards the Federal Government. The policy of the government has been liberal and generous towards North Carolina, and no pains should be spared to secure a continuance of this policy.

And the officers in the various counties, appointed by the Provisional Governor, are enjoined to exert themselves to preserve the peace among the people on the day of the election; to act with justice and firmness in all matters that may claim their attention; to see that those entitled to vote are protected in their right of suffrage, and that every manifestation, if such manifestation there should be, of hostility to the Federal Government, is promptly rebuked and repressed.

Done at our city of Raleigh, the 18th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, and in the year of the Independence of the United States the ninetieth.
